

ISSA 63 PRELIMINARY PROGRAMME

Global Ship Supply: Are You Ready for Tomorrow's Maritime World?

Co-hosted with Turkish Ship Suppliers Association

OVERVIEW

ISSA's 63rd Convention & Trade Exhibition is to be staged this year in one of the World's great capital and maritime cities: Istanbul.

Truly there is no more appropriate spot to be with the City linking Europe and Asia and the amazing waterway (The Bosphorous) providing a dramatic back-drop to ISSA's premier event.

It has become a cliché to say we are living in a world of change. On this occasion such a phrase can be employed with confidence because the shipping industry really is on the cusp of exciting and amazing developments that will truly change the way you do business.

Technology is driving this change and so there are key presentations at this year's Plenary which will entertain and educate you not only about the realities of tomorrow's maritime world but the opportunities to grasp to ensure you prosper and flourish.

From block-chain technology to autonomous ships, supplies delivery by drone to bigger ships needing less supplies – truly these are challenging but exciting times.

Come with us as we explore this brave new world and be fired with enthusiasm to get your slice of the cake!
